SENATOR NORE: Mr. President, for a point of personal privilege.

PRESIDENT: State your point, Senator.

SENATOR NORE: I was wondering about when the..on this letter from the Governor. The third paragraph there would be additional vetoes of other tax spending measures, as I reviewed some of the Legislature's other actions during the next few days. Do we have any recourse on that?

PRESIDENT: I don't believe so, Senator.

PRESIDENT: I don't believe so.

SENATOR NORE: This was the thing I was talking about yesterday.

PRESIDENT: All right. Senator Murphy, FOR WHAT purpose do you rise?

SENATOR MURPHY: Just a question on Senator Nore's inquiry. Wouldn't it be possible for this Legislature to reconvene on a vote of 40 members, and override subsequent vetoes.

PRESIDENT: That is correct. You didn't make a motion, Senator Burbach, you just asked. Yes. Senator Burbach. Do you care to respond.

SENATOR BURBACH: Not reconvene, we would have to only extend for 40 votes. But you count...you could not..

PRESIDENT: But you could not extend the session.

SENATOR BURBACH: But you are talking about a special session.

PRESIDENT: Yes, you would vote to extend the session. Senator Nore turn off your light please. Thank you, Sir. Read the report on the desk.
